VICTUS MADE

When we started this in our garage in 2012, we wanted to do one thing: make wooden bats that baseball players love. Bats that felt good to swing. Bats that we were proud to hand to our friends.

Those hungry days of sweat and sawdust paid off. 2017 and 2018 saw back-to-back big league MVPs repping the “V” and calling Victus their brand. And who could forget the show that Bryce put on in the derby or the tear that Tim went on to win the batting title last year?

It may seem crazy, but it’s not. Not when everything we make gets crafted with an obsession for quality and feel that only baseball players understand. We’ll never give that up.

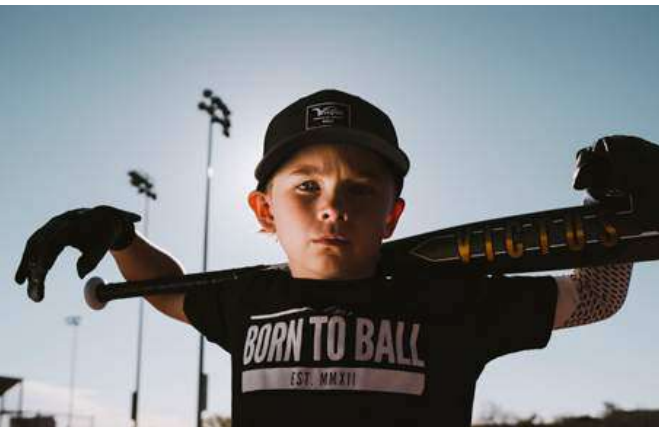

We’re still evolving as a brand with new product lines and new offerings each season. From stepping into the world of aluminum to apparel built for ballplayers, we’ve become more than just a wooden bat company. But as we continue to grow, we’ll never forget where we came from. We’ll never forget what it means to be Victus Made.

- Jared + Ryan

FERNANDO TATIS JR.
SHORTSTOP / SAN DIEGO

THE NEW WAVE

LAST SEASON THE WORLD WAS INTRODUCED TO ROOKIE PHENOM FERNANDO TATIS JR. THE ELECTRIC SHORTSTOP DIDN'T DISAPPOINT.

Swinging the Victus Tatis23 Pro Reserve, the newest addition to our Show Series line, Tatis came out firing on all cylinders. Crafted from extremely dense maple milled in the USA and featuring a distinct feel built to rake, the Dominican-born star made waves in more ways than one during his debut season. El Niño, as they call him, loves the fact that the more you hit with maple, the harder it gets due to the nature of its hardened close-grained construction for maximum impact with every at-bat.

This year, in his sophomore season, he's set to light up the league all over again with his trademark Gloss Galaxy Gray/Grit Flame combo available exclusively on the Tatis23. The rest of the league has officially been put on notice.

JC24

PRO RESERVE

The JC24 is arguably the most well-balanced and most durable bat we produce, constructed similarly to the C271 but thicker in areas essential to keeping a wood bat in one piece. The slightly flared knob provides a comfortable resting spot for your bottom hand. If you're making the transition from metal bats to wood bats, the JC24 is for you. It's even better for contact hitters who consistently drive the ball deep in the gaps.

A close-up portrait of Tim Anderson, a baseball player, looking directly at the camera. He is wearing a white t-shirt and a black baseball cap. He is holding a black and gold Victus baseball bat. The bat has "PRO RESERVE SERIES", "TA7", and "MAPLE GLASS BIRCH 30" printed on it. The "Victus" brand name is also visible on the bat. He has tattoos on both arms. The background is a chain-link fence.

WE DIFFERENT

Tim Anderson isn't your average shortstop. He may not even be your average baseball player. And his average at the plate... well that's different too.

TIM ANDERSON
SHORTSTOP / CHICAGO

Last season saw the rise of Chicago's favorite son, Tim Anderson – the trash-talkin', bat-flippin' batting champ. He's been swinging Victus since day one, but last season, his best yet, saw him make the switch to birch with his TA7 model.

The TA7 is an end-loaded beast that packs a ton of whip through the zone, perfect for "handsy" hitters like Tim who like to control how the ball comes off the barrel. Because Birch is a more flexible species of wood than both maple and ash, it reacts to contact in a more complex way. The grains compact over time and create an even harder barrel with increased durability. Anderson used that to his advantage all season long, cracking a league-high .335 batting average with his weapon of choice.

T. Anderson

"GOT TO DEFEND THE CROWN"

THIS SEASON, ANDERSON AND HIS VICTUS TA7 ARE BACK IN ACTION CHASING A REPEAT, AIMING TO WEAR THE CROWN ONCE AGAIN. WE SAT DOWN WITH TIM ANDERSON TO MIX IT UP:

How long have you been swinging Victus?

Since I was drafted in '13. Victus has been my one and only go to from day one.

Why are you and the "V" a perfect match?

Cuz we different. We're out here trying to change the game and bring this sport to a new generation of ballplayers.

Tell us about your TA7 model – why birch?

My model is perfect. Big barrel, flared knob and massive sweet spot. I switched to birch last year, and you seen what I did with it. Birch is more flexible and durable. It's perfect for my game.

Are you and your weapon of choice aiming for a batting title repeat?

You know we fittin' to run it back. Got to defend the crown.

Are you happy with the way it holds up when you flip it at opposing squads?

Oh yea, she look nice flippin' through the air. That gold shines.

THE VICTUS LIMITED SERIES REPRESENTS THE INTERSECTION OF EXPRESSION AND PERFORMANCE BY CREATING EXCLUSIVE LIMITED-EDITION PRODUCTS INFUSED WITH THE VICTUS DNA DESIGNED TO CHANGE THE GAME.

LIMITED
by Design

Last season, we launched our new line of Limited bats called the VICTUS LIMITED SERIES. These bats featured rare models used during marquee Big League events, followed by short runs of badass models that we felt the world didn’t need but deserved.

Gone are the days when bat options are confined to traditions and norms. We are in a renaissance of creativity and design, limited only by what we can think up next.

And this season, we are about to take things to an entirely new level. Led by our lead bat engineers, Ryan Smith (aka Diesel Bats) and Bruce Lee Tatum, our Limited Series is about to go where no bat company has gone before.

Oh, and did we mention? We are expanding our Limited Series to include rare Limited Gear and Apparel as well, so be on the lookout for our latest drop.
